Yellow Fever Causes a Boy's Death at New Orleans.

OCEAN SPRINGS TO BE QUARANTINED

The Dread Disease Said to Have Originated There Through People Eating Contaminated Ovsters From the Mississippi Sound.

New Orleans, Sept. 7.-Raoul Gelpi, who had been spending the summer at Ocean Springs, was brought to this city Thursday and died yesterday. Dr. Walmsley, acting president of the board of health, after an autopsy announced the boy had died of yellow fever. The board of health has taken charge of the house, which will be thoroughly fumigated and disinfected, and will take all steps to prevent a spread of the disease. The deceased was buried privately, no one being allowed to attend the funeral. Gelpi was 13 years of age. Dr. Walmsley says this is the only case

The Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana health authorities, who have been at Ocean Springs, Miss., 84 miles from here, on Biloxi bay, gulf of Mexico, pronounce the disease prevalent there to be yellow fever.

There had been several hundred eases n week ago, but very few deaths, and a board of experts then declared the disease dengue fever. Since then deaths have become more frequent, the symptoms locked more like yellow fever, and the alarm became so great that the health authorities again gathered. This time they were accompanied by Professor A. L. Metz, themist of the Louisiana board, who shalyzed the evidence in several cases.

Mobile and other places have declared a quarantine against Ocean Springs.

Professor Metz seems to think that the prevailing complaint is due in a measure to a poliution of the water in the bay. The drainage of Ocean Springs empties directly into the bay, and the rains wash a large quantity of injurious matter into the water and upon the area in which the oysters consumed by the town people are temporarily bedded. It is feared that the oysters absorb poisonous germs and communicate them to the persons eating them.

Information Received in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 7 .- The latest information received by Dr. Bailbache, acting surgeon general of the Marine Hospital service, is to the effect that the disease reported at Ocean Springs, Miss., is yellow fever. This information comes from Assistant Surgeon Wasdin, whose regular station is at Mobile, but who was granted permission to go to Ocean Springs in company with other physicians, and it is in accord with the conclusions reached by Messrs. Harralson and Hunter of the Mississippi state board of health in their report to Governor McLaurin. Dr. Wasdin's dispatch is as follows: "A second autopsy confirms the diagnosis of yellow fever. There is general acquiescence in this opinion. The town is nearly depopulated. No need of great alarm.'

Notwithstanding the opinion reached by Dr. Wasdin, the efficials here are loath to believe that the disease is yellow fever. While attaching much importance to Dr. Wasdin's conclusions the bureau, in view of the gravity of the struction, will await a report from Dr. John Guiteras of the University of Penn-vivania, who has been requested to proceed to Ocean Springs, before any action is taken. Dr. Guiteras is a Cuban by birth, has himself had a case of yellow fever and has spent much time in places where it has existed. It is felt that his opinion of the disease should be known before any stringent measures of precaution are taken, especially in view of the fact that the regulations incident thereto always involve hardship and in view of the further fact that the mortality in the present case has been so light as to make the officials here doubt whether there is any yellow fever at all.

Is Certainly Yellow Fever.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 7 .- Governor Mc-Laurin has received the following telegram from the two members of the state board of health who were sent to Ocean Springs, Miss., to investigate the yellow fever scare: "After a most thorough investigation in every conceivable light it is the unanimous opinion of representatives of the Louisiana. Alabama and Mississippi state boards of health and the marine hospitals that the fever now prevailing in Ocean Springs is yellow fever."

Ocean Springs is a pretty village on the gulf coast of Mississippi. It has about 2,000 permanent inhabitants and in summer is a seaside resort for people from New Orleans and Mobile. The oysters which it is supposed contained the germs of the disease are caught in the Mississippi sound and transplanted in the bay, upon which Ocean Springs fronts. In former years when yellow fever was epidemic in New Orleans, the towns along the Mississippi coast-Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Pascagoula-suffered more or less from the plague, but there has been no yellow fever in that locality eince 1878.

Chicago Scems Safe. Chicago, Sept. 7 .- Dr. W. F. Reilly of the health department says there is abcolutely no danger of the yellow fever epidemic now threatening the south coming as far north as Chicago. "There must be a sustained mean temperature of 70 degrees for the propagation of yellow tever," seid he. "With cooler weather than that it simply dies out." Average maximum temperature so far in September is about 68 degrees.

COLLISION OF VESSELS.

Tim Captain of One and a Workman Seriously Injured.

Washington, Sept. 7 .- The steamer Newport News of the Washington and Norfolk line ran into and plowed through almost the entire side of the ferry steamer Columbia, running between here and Alexandria. Fortunately the ferry steamer had only a few passengers, and there were no fatalities, though several of the crew of the ferrytoat were severely injured by the shock of the collision. The accident occurred just above Alexandria, and, according to Captain Fowkes of the ferryboat, was due to the fact that the Newport News was being pushed almost at full speed up the river, notwithstanding a dense fog made it impossible to see for any considerable distance ahead.

Captain Fowkes said that from the time his boat left the Washington wharf he had sounded his whistle constantly, and when off Shepherds landing, off Alexandria, heard a signal from the Newport News to stop. He immediately pulled the bell and had the ferryboat brought to a standstill, meanwhile running his vessel out of her course in order to avert a collision and as far toward the shore as it was possible without beaching her.

He supposed that the Newport News would be brought to a standstill and was horrified to see her almost on his boat and under a full head of steam. At the Washington and Norfolk line's office no statement was obtainable regarding the accident.

The framework was splintered, and the wheel was completely demolished. The large 10 inch shaft was twisted as if it had been made of lead, and the massive iron girders in the engine room were twisted out of position. The engine was also badly damaged, having been jarred from position on massive bed timbers. The damage to the Columbia is estimated at from $10,000 to $12,000. Captain R. T. Fowkes was seriously injured about the legs and back, and James Scott, a workman, was badly hurt.

Husband Charged With Wife Murder. Corning, N. Y., Sept. 7.-The coroner's inquest at Mansfield into the death of Mrs. Effic Goodwin, who was found dead just outside the village late Saturday night, resulted in the holding of her husband. Walter Goodwin, on a charge of murder in the first degree. An important arrest was also made in the case in the person of Gertrude Taylor of Phenix Run. Potter county. It was learned that she was in Goodwin's company on Friday night and that he had been keeping company with her for some time past. She at first denied ever having been to Mansfield, but finally admitted that she had been with Goodwin for two days, and on the night of the murder drove to Mansfield with him. He left her for nearly an hour, and when he returned, she stated. he said that at last he was a free man, and then they drove to Goodwin's father's home, arriving there at 3 a. m. EDDIE BALD RIDES A GREAT RACE.

He Finishes Fourth to Titus From Scratch, but by Riding the Two Miles in 4m. 15 2-5s. Equals the World's Record.

Manhattan Beach, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Gold, the largest amount yet offered in a cycle race, $2,000 of it, in eagles and double eagles, hung yesterday in short buckskin purses over the Manhattan Beach bicycle track.

It was a Klondike which the Quill club's big handicap created for American professional cycle champions, and the trail to it was two miles, over a glistening white track of asphalt.

The purses were attached to a string tied to posts of the grand stand and the judges' stand and were so hung as to be about 10 feet above the track.

Those who qualified after the trial heats were: E. C. Bald, Q. C. W., Buffalo, scratch; Arthur Gardiner, Q. C. W., Chicago, scratch; F. A. McFarland, San Jose, Cal., 25 yards; F. J. Titus, R. W., New York, 40 yards; L. A. Callahan, R. B., Buffalo, 50 yards; H. R. Steensen, Dayton, O., 6) yards, Watson Coleman, Boston, $6 yards; E. S. Aker, Philadelphia, 80 yards: W. E. Becker, Minneapolis, 100 yards; O. S. Kimble, Old Kaintuck, 100 yards; R. A. Miller, H. W., New York, 120 yards; H. P. Mosher, Storm King, 169 yards; L. R. Lefferson, Asbury Park, N. J., 160 yards; F. D. White, Lynbrook, N. Y., 180 yards; Arthur S. Lee, C. W., Cohoes, 200 yards. The Men Line Up.

As the 15 men lined up for the final hear of the $2,000 mile handicap and were recognized a murmur went up from the 6,000 people.

It grew to a roar as the crowd caught sight of the buckskin bags swung across the track. The purses ranged in size from that of a man's hand to the tiny fist of a lady, and they glistened in the sun like a bunch of goldenrod.

Before the race Referee Mott announced to the riders, who were seated like so many Indians on the track, that a disqualification was too small a punishment for foul riding in such an important race and said he would not only disqualify the unfair rider, but fine

As the men bent over their pedals, awaiting the pistol, everybody quivered with excitement, riders and spectators alike. Starter Peck delivered his say, and "Eang!" went the pistol.

Every man dug for life, and not one of the field but was moving in an in-Bald had the inside and took the pole at the start, Gardiner following. At the first lap Lee led, with Kemble in advance of the middle markers. The rear crowd gradually came together in the next lap. Mosher was the first to make the two-thirds. Titus cutting out the running for the back markers. Lee, with Mosher and Lefferson, were trying like soldiers to maintem their allowance and alternated in pacing frequently. At the mile they were 50 yards ahead of the bunch, with Miller in between, going it alone. Gardiner assumed the lead of the rest of the field at the mile post, with Baid half a length back, Titus dropping back to last position.

Hald went in front of Gardiner on the next lap, and it looked as if it would be his race. The page was hot, every one straining every ounce of strength in him to the primest.

How Titus Won.

On the bell lap Frank White of Lynbrook was in the lead, and every bit of energy in his system was being brought into play.

The back markers swallowed up the four who were in the lead. Every man watched the other, and all feared to make the initial move.

By this time the turn into the back stretch had begun. Then something happened. From the bunched field emerged Watson Coleman. Titus' eye was on him, and like a flash he followed. The rest of the riders were after him in an instant. But it was too late. Coleman jumped into the lead back stretch was one never to be forgotten. Not a man but had a fighting chance for the race, and every one was determined to do or die. Bald and Gardiner were in the midst of the bunch, but working out for the final sprint.

The men shuffled again as the swing into the turn was made, and then it was seen that Titus was in front. Like a cannon ball he swept toward the tape, with the rest at his heels. Inch by inch and yard by yard he approached the tape amid such applause as has never before been heard. Titus finished first, McFarland second and Coleman third. Bald wriggled like a snake to get through the field, but McFarland was thinking he would like to get a piece of the money. Titus shot arranged money. Titus shot over the tape a winner two lengths ahead of McFarland, with Watson Coleman just far enough in advance of Bald to get third money. Time-Titus, 40 yards, 4:15 1-5; Bald, Incidentally a Winner of the Quill | Argentine Minister Wants Lower Rates For His Country.

SAYS DINGLEY DUTIES ARE UNJUST.

United States Asked to Enter Into Reciprocity Relations With the South

Washington, Sept. 7 .- Senor M. Gartia Merou, the Argentine minister, has not yet received official notice of the message sent to the Argentine congress by President Uriburu suggesting either reciprocity treaties with the United States or retaliatory tariff legislation if the United States declines to make a treaty, but he is familiar with its purport, as it is in line with negotiapecting information from his government at an early day.

The present action in Argentine was foreshadowed by Senor Merou in an official note which he sent to Secretary Sherman some time ago. In this the minister referred to the painful surprise of his government on hearing of the practically prohibitory rate of duty which threatened Argentine wool. He ilso presented a statement of the condition of the trade between the countries, which, he said, showed that the main articles sent by Argentine to the United States are wool, hides, goatskins and bristles.

In 1896 the shipments of wool to the United States were 22,736,851 pounds, valued at $2,638,257. Argentine also furnished 21.9 per cent of all the hides brought into the country, coming next to the United Kingdom; 13 per cent of all goatskins and 15 per cent of all bristles. The new tariff law, the minister said, fixed practically prohibitive rates on wool and hides. The wool schedule he represented to be particularly burdensome, as the Argentine woois have more shrinkage than Australian wools, thus permitting the latter to have an advantage.

Argentine's Concessions.

Argentine had made heavy tariff concessions to the United States, specifying as follows:

other articles, mowers, reapers, thrashers, raw petroleum, coal, coke, locomotives, rails and sleepers. We have reduced the duty on lumber (yellow pine and oak), on canned goods, on petroleum, on cotton goods (this last from 60 per cent to 20 per cent), and we are levying a moderate duty on all other American products imported there (5 per cent ad valorem on plows, machines and motors of all kinds for agricultural pursuits, sewing machines, rosin, wire for

The value of mowers and reapers shipped from the United States to Argentine, he said, were $817,445 for the year ending July 1, 1895, while the shipment of mineral oil, lumber, tools, all kinds of instruments and railroad equipments also were large. This document he followed up with a more recent statement, in which he showed by official statistics that for a period of ten years, 1887 to 1896 inclusive, the trade of the two countries has almost balanced the shipments from Argentine to the United States, being $57,903,788, and those from the United States to Argentine, $57,164,605. President Uriburus' plan contemplates that the Argentine tariff rates shall be remodeled so as to provide a maximum tariff and a minimum tariff, similar to the plan of European countries. The advantages of the minimum rates will then be accorded to the United States if a reciprocity treaty is negotiated which will give concessions to Argentine goods. Argentine will urge that a treaty be negotiated by which the president grant 20 per cent reduction in the duties on such goods as may be agreed

TO IMPEACH HIS WORD.

The Luctgert Defense Likely to Make Trouble For Inspector Schaack. Chicago, Sept. 7 .-- It is predicted that the fiercest legal battle of the Luetgert murder trial will come when Police Inspector Schaack, who has been active in ferreting out the mystery surrounding Mrs. Luetgert's disappearance, takes the stand, should it finally be decided to call him as a witness. It is at the door of the north side inspector that Adolph Luetgert lays his present troubles. The accused sausage maker is extremely bitter against Schaack, and his attorneys have tried to bring out evidence to show that witnesses have been coached and that even money has been used by the police in "fixing" testimony. Efforts were made to show the police methods in the instance of Gottlieba Schimpke by trying to draw from her that the agreement with the police matron was merely a scheme to keep the girl under police control.

This, taken with the bitter personal feeling which Attorney Vincent is said to harbor against Inspector Schaack, would likely make the courtroom scene that would follow the introduction of Schaack as a witness one of the most exciting features of the trial.

In fact, it has been learned that the defense has planned to make this a strong feature of its side of the case Attorney Vincent has, it is said, some 25 witnesses, who will be put on the stand for the purpose of impeaching the testimony of the inspector.

Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 7.-News has been received of the death in the ham-let of Unionville of Peter Johnson, one of the most eccentric of New Jersey's tribe of aged and peculiar hermits.

He was 76 years old and lived alone in a little house with a cat and a few chickens. For several years he had not spoken to his brother, who lived near him, in the town of Union.

On a 60 foot hickory tree, near the house in which the neighbors found him dying, several ladders were lashed. By these ladders he climbed daily to the topmost branches, despite his great age. There he exhorted with religious fervor to the world at large, depending upon chance wayfarers and straggling neighbors for an audience.

He was often heard praying or singing hymns in his tree top pulpit at all hours of the day and night.

The owis heard his prayers and songs of praise and answered with cries which betokened a feeling of kinship between the religious recluse and the other untamed inhabitants of the Jersey woods. Mottoes on His Fences.

without change of cars." At the left end of the house is a sign 6 feet in length on red poles:

"Pride shuts the door of heaven and opens the gates of hell." Over the well, "Glory be to Jesus."

The top of the wood house is inscribed, "My righteousness in the sight of God is as filthy rags."

Religious texts were nailed over the headboard of his bed, over the kitchen stove and over each door. It was rumored among the country folk that his wife had been untrue to him. The hermit was short of stature, wrinkled and bent and wore a full, shaggy beard, which had not been trimmed in years.

Johnson served through the war in the First Connecticut heavy artillery. Every three months he walked to the postoffice and drew his pension. It was the only mail he ever inquired for or ever received, and those were the only trips he ever made away from home.

Brooklyn, Sept. 7 .- Four burglars who had planned a wholesale raid on a store in Brownsville were surprised by the police in Brooklyn as they were making off with a load of booty. Abraham Dorfman, 30 years old, of 82 Avenue C. New York city, one of the burglars, was shot dead. Two confederates were airested. The fourth man escaped. The arrested men describe themselves as Henry Hertz, 24 years old, of Christopher street and Dumont avenue, and Henry Zax, 19 years old, of Watkins street and Dumont avenue. The police were warned of the operations of the robbers by Philip Cohen of 29. Watkins street. They found the men carrying goods out of Gellar & Abrawor's store, on Watkins street, near Livonia avenue. After loading $700 werth of clothing into a wagon the burglars drove toward Eastern parkway. The robbers refused to halt when confronted by the police, and the latter opened fire upon them.

Actions Speak-He Was Willing to

Read Her Mind. For many long years the young woman had called upon Ulysses, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. She had brought him numberless packages of choice cigarettes, as well as divers specimene of the more expensive genus cigar. She had repeatedly purchased tickets for various celebrated prize-fights, and after escorting him thither would see to it that he had plenty of lemon cream puils to munch upon during the intervals of slugging. Many and many an evening she had assisted him in increasing the numerals upon his poor, hard-working mamma's coal and gas bills, and she had seen four several sets of new springs added to the parlor soft. But hitherto she had not stood up like a-er-woman, and boldly declared her love for him; and requested to be allowed to pay all his expenses in the future, in consideration of his donning ber last name. But upon this special evening in question Ulysses had her dead to rights. It may have been the witching golf costume in old gold and baby blue that he wore, or the shy grace with which he placed his tiny palm in hers. flowever, be this as it may, she could no longer restrain herself; but impulsively threw her arms about his frail, shrinking figure and drew him tenderly to-

Berlin Bakers Employ Hygienic Methods in Bread Handling.

A novel improvement in baking has been made by some of the most prominent bakers of Berlin, which is the natural consequence of the increasing tendency to employ hygienic methods in every trade dealing with food and food supplies, says the Philadelphia Record. While rolls have long been delivered in paper bags to customers, it has always been the rule to handle bread with the fingers, each loaf going through a number of hands before delivered at the consumer's door, there to be received by the bare, often not too clean, fingers of the servant. The recent improvement, which has been covered by patents, consists of using paper bags the exact shape of the various sizes of bread turned out by a baker. These bags are open at both ends, and, being slightly longer than the loaf, the ends are turned together with a twist as the loaf is shoved from the oven straight into the bag. This cover will protect the bread from any pollution after it leaves the oven, for it is kept in the paper bag not only while being handled in the bakery and by the delivery man, but it can be kept there while the loaf is being used, being cut at one end as the loaf gets shorter. The new system has found a very quick spread, and the adoption. Since the name of the baker can be printed on the outside of the bag without interfering with its usefulness. it may be a good advertisement to adopt

They Plainly Reveal the Traits in One's Character.

The whole nature of a person, according to a faceologist, is indicated in the eyebrows. Eyebrows that are gracefully arched and elevated show imagination and ideality, and, when much elevated, credulity; those that are depressed over the nose and almost straight show penetrating powers of observation. It is also said that one perpendicular wrinkle over the nose and between the brows shows carefulness in small matters, while two or three wrinkles show conscientiousness.

Rough eyebrows show fondness for nasic, especially if thick and lowering, while the art lover of either sex has eyebrows that are long and tapering. One other sign which is sometimes found in a man's face, though oftener in a woman's, is the dimple. Everyone loves a dimpled cheek, and the fact seems to be that dimples, whether in cheek or chin, mellow and sweeten the disposition. They show a strong desire to be loved and appreciated, as well as a wish to be agreeable. And they also show a keen appreciation of beauty in the opposite sex.

ANT PIE.

Curious Insect in Mexico Regarded as a Delicacy.

Savages, we know, indulge in such Iuxuries as grubs and locusts, but for a civilized white man to finish up his dinner with a dish of raw ants seems too nasty to be credible. Yet in Mexicoit is the custom-and a custom adopted by plenty of colonists and visitors.

The ant eaten is called the honey-ant, and is perhaps as curious an insect as lives. With a tiny head and legs, it has a huge body as big as a large pea, and this is yellow and swollen with excellent honey.

In each nest there are 300 or 400 of these honey-ants, which are attended by thousands of others. The honeyants hang on to the roof of the cells in the nest while the others feed them. They are, in fact, living storehouses of winter food. An observer says that if one of the honey-ants falls from his perch a worker will go and pick him up and replace him. This is as if a man were to walk up the face of a cliff carrying a large buffalo or cart horse on his back.

Long Bullets.

Elongated rifle bullets are made from leaden rods. A machine cuts them into the required lengths, stamps them into shape by means of steel dies, and drops them finished into a box at the rate of 7,000 an hour.

RAILROADS FOR CHINA. Millions of Dollars Being Spent to Open the Flowery Kingdom. The close of the century will have witnessed the beginning of a profound change in the industrial conditions of China and the adjacent parts of the orient, says Review of Reviews. Besides the great trunk railroads that the Russians are to build in the north of China, and the Chinese lines that will be built by the Belgian company recently chartered, it is announced that the French government has completed important arrangements for the extension of railroads from Cochin China, the Tonquin region, well into the adjacent Chinese provinces. On the west the trans-Caspian lines are approaching Chinese ternitory, while railroad building under English governmental auspices in the Malayan peninsula is progressing with much enterprise, and new concessions have just been wrested from the Chinese government. Several million dollars is about to be spent for constructing 200 miles of road as an extension of existing lines. All this work in and about China means the gradual opening up of an enormous commerce with that rich and productive empire.

The correspondent of a photographic journal, in speaking of the special interest that attaches to the Roentgen rays among protographers, who often are not in a position to invest in elaborate and expensive sets of apparatus, says it is not generally known that by means of a very simple optical illusion, an almost perfect imitation of the wonders of the radiography can be shown without the trouble and expense of induction coils, tubes or fluorescent screens. All that is necessary is to take a small feather from a pheasant or turkey, and holding it close to the eye look through the radiating ribs at the end of the feather at the fingers of the hand neld up towards the sky, or against the window. The flesh of the fingers will then appear to be transparent, with the opaque bone running down in the center, as shown by the true radiography. If it is desired to exhibit the phenomenon by gaslight a piece of ground glass must be held in front of the flame to diffuse the light.

Gifts of Great Value. Government experts have just completed their valuation of the pictures and art treasures of one king and another bequeathed to the English nation by Lady Wallace, who during her lifetime was barred from presentation at court and subjected to much unkindly ostracism by English society. The value is set down officially at the enormous sum of $22,000,000. The government has decided to keep the collection where it is—that is to say, in Hertford acquire for the purpose.

-Last Saturday night as Fred Shultz was returning from Middletown and when about a mile south of the city, one of the bolts that hold the wagon pole to the axletree became loosened and lost. causing the wagon to careen and throwing the driver out. He struck on his head and received a bad scalp wound. The team got loosened from the wagon and ran furiously for three or four miles to the farm house of A. W. Shultz, where they stopped. They were somewhat cut and bruised. A new yellow colored horse blanket was lost on the road. A reward for it will be given if returned to Mr

-One of the finest and most attractive sights that I have observed this year is the fruit in the large peach orchard owned by Theodore Donne and Dayton Sutton. The trees are heavily laden with the luscious fruit, but it was a sad sight, in passing through their orchard, which comprises about 1,500 trees, to note that nearly one-third of the trees are more or less crushed or broken down with the heavy weight of peaches. About a dozen pickers are daily engaged in reheving the over-burdened trees and taking the peaches by wagon loads to

HUNGER AS A MOTIVE

It is the Maddin's Lamp of Civilia zation.

The rowels of nature's most powerful spur, hunger, are continually reddening the flanks of the primitive community, says the Monist. The apostle's seathing arraignment of the Cietans, "whose god is their belly," would literally apply to every savage tribe-and many a civilized one. Hunger is one of the mainsprings of progress. At its imperative command the first was chipped into the arrow head, the dart, the spear. In its honor the net was woven, the hoe was made and the soil broken. To appease its cravings the wild bull is broken to the voke, the forests are felled, the ditch is dug through the marsh.

On its errands the ship is launched on the perilous deep and the band sent out upon the war path. Into its service have been impressed the winds of heaven, the steam wreaths of the caldron and the glittering shafts of the lightning. It is the real Aladdin's lamp of civilization. The ceaseless westward advertisement to my store. flow of the human stream and the march of the "star of empire" have been at the behest of its genii. Whether it be born of a barren soil and a cruel sky or of the pressure of overpopulation, it has played a leading part in molding the destinies of the nations.

In the fall of every world empire from Assyria to Rome the conquering race has invariably come from the mountainous or barren land, or from a stern-

And still to-day the nations of the bleakest belt of the temperate zone, where the struggle with soil and climate is severest, the Scotch, the English, the Dutch and the North Germans, are overrunning the whole of the inhabitable globe and bid fair to far outdo Alexander by more peaceable and far more stable means.

Port Jervis Republicans have elected delegates to the county and assembly conventions. The county delegates are unanimously in favor of the nomination of D. W. Bogart for Superintendent of the Poor and are unpledged as to other candidates. In other words, they are in good shape for Mr. Bogart to use in making deals and combinations.

The Republicans of Wawayanda metl at Slate Hill, Saturday, and chose the following delegates:

County—Charles E. Clark, Randal Stivers and Dr. H. J. Shelley. Assembly—R. V. Ryerson, Ezra Finch

Senatorial-Albert Slauson and F. B

As there is no Senator to be nominated, this year, the Senatorial delegates serve no other purpose than to show the | the local assessors of $138,272,791 and ignorance of Wawayanda Republicans in of personal estate of $2,690,435. regard to current politics. The county delegation is not as solid for Mr. Howell as he had expected. Dr. Shelley, who is postmaster at Ridgebsry by the grace of Ren Odell is for the machine, first, last and all the time; Mr. Clark will be for the machine under certain conditions and Mr. Stivers, though he may vote for Mr. Howell, is quite as likely to follow the lead of his colleagues.

The resignation of Water Commissioner Rogers raises an interesting question as to how the vacancy in the Board is to be filled, for there is a discrepancy in the provisions of the charter bearing on this matter. It is provided in Title iv. Section 1, that "the Mayor shall fill by appointment, until the next charter election, any vacancy in any city office which may occur by death or resignation of any city officer, whether elected or appointed." In Title xii. Section 3, it is provided that "in case of any vacancy in the Board (of Water Commissioners) by death, resignation or otherwise, the Board may appoint some person to fill the vacancy until the next annual election for city officers." It will be observed that the section giving the power of appointment to the Mayor is mandatory, while that giving it to the Water Board is only permissive, and it is probable that the Mayor will red that he is called ppon to make an appointment. If he does the Water Commissioners will probably accept his appointer, but if they in--ist on making an appointment an interesting complication might arise.

THE VOLKS FEST.

Very Successful Day's Outing by the Germans of This City.

The fourth annual Volks Fest held at Mænnerchor Park, on Labor Day, drew one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the park. The Chester cornet band led a parade of Germans about town in the morning, and gave a short concert at the Square before proceeding to the park.

The shooting contest during the afternoon attracted attention. The first prize was awarded to August Pinii, who made 28 out of a possible 30. Louis Kern was second with 16, R. Forthofter unrd with 14, and John Mosher and the .rrepressible "Shorty" Kaufler (red for courth medal with 12 each. In the "shoot of "Mr. Kauffer won with 12 to Mr. Mosher's 10.

The children's contests immished no end of amusement.

During the evening the dancing platdorm was crowded until long past midnight. The committee in charge of the affair was as follows.

MT. RETIREMENT ALUMNI.

Annual Ecunion at the Old Seminary-A Pleasant Cathering.

The annual reunion of Mt. Retirement Seminary was held, Monday, at the ol-Seminary, near Deckertown. The attendance was not quite so large as last year, but many of the old graduates and oupils and their children and their children's children met to renew old acquaintances and friendships and all were hospitably received; and welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Millen, the occupants of Mt. Retirement farm.

An unexpected and most unwelome incident or the day was the advent of a swarm of mosquitoes, -: the genuine Jersey mosquitoes, bold as Bashi Bazouks and blood thirsty as Turks, which drove the visitors in the house and made it necessary for them to eat their lunches there. The exercises also had to be held indoors.

The alumni were called to order by Joseph Osborne, the retiring President. Rev. Dr. Jansen, of Newark, offered prayer. Addresses were made by William Titsworth, of the class of '33, Moses DeWitt, of Newark; James Canfield, of Newark; P. V. Brennan, of New York, and Joseph Osborne.

The following officers were elected: Pr. sident-George B. Sanford, New

WANTED TO SHOOT SOMEBODY

George Kelly Had Blood in His Eye. Monday Afternoon.

George Kelly, a bartender, was around town. Monday afternoon, flourishing a revolver with which he said be intended to shoot a young man whom he charged with making uncalled for remarks about a member of his family.

A young plumber took the revolver away from him in a saloon, but not until Capt, Veber had detailed Officer Tyrell to locate Kelly and disarm him. Tyrell found him in a saloon on Low avenue with his brother. He searched them both, but the revolver had already been confiscated, as told above.

ONTARIO'S ODD ROCK.

Bears a Grotesque Resemblince to a Human Head

Held in Superstition by the Indians of the Province of Ontario - Why Miners Rub the Forehead of the Frenk.

On a steep, rocky bluff overhanging a narrow inlet of the Lake of the Woods. about 2% miles from the mining village of Rat Portage, Ont., stands one of the most freakish objects to be found anywhere in the world. It consists of a ledge of solid granite which bears most grotesque resemblance to a human head, its cavernous mouth partly open, its features distorted with a horrible grin. This mostrosity is commonly known as "Devil's Head," but is also called "Skull Rock." It is about 20 feet high above the bluff and about 21 feet in width at the widest part. Ears, eyes and a mouth are plainly visible-the latter appearing in the form of a cave which extends back in the stone about ten feet, and then, like a veritable throat, shoots down a considerable distance into the hill on which

This extraordinary object, says the New York Herald, has attracted the notice of almost every prospector for precious metal who has visited the region. There is hardly an explorer who has entered the prospective gold fields known as the Rainy and Seine River El Dorado who has not touched with the palm of his hand a spot just above the eyes in the belief that this act would bring him luck in his search for the precious metal. Perhaps the reason for this singular superstition is the fact that the first gold-bearing rock ever found in this region was taken from the mouth of this figure, where it is supposed to have been deposited by the Indians, years ago:

A gold miner traveled 1,500 miles to touch it before going out on a six months' empedition. "It would have been just as well for me not to have touched the lucky stone, though," he said, "for both the fortunes which have come to me through it have faded away, and I am out for the third time in search for what ish hand."

The Indians have a legend concerning the "skull rock" to the effect that it is nothing more nor less than the petrified head of a great warrior who came from their "happy hunting grounds' to protect the tribes of the northwest against extermination by the whites. They therefore look upon the stone with reverence as a talisman.

In the earlier days a sort of Indian burying grounds was established there for the bravest warriors. The eustom seems to have been abandoned, however. The stone was used before the country was surveyed to mark certain locations for the Canadian government, and some of the main survey lines which now cut the country into sections were made from this rock a≅ a basie point.

Some one has painted the image with blood-red paint, outlining the eyes and cose which appear in the structure of the rock, making them even more prombeent than nature left them. This has given the grinning effigy a somewhat tunny appearance; certainly it causes in the traveler who beholds it for the irst time a very queer sensation, and the boatmen take great delight in rightening the more timid with the hexpected sight as they pass along he river below. Judging, however, rain the number of souvenirs taken com the rock every year, it will not ong survive the onslaught of curio

THE SURGEON FISH.

Handsome Enough to Look At, But Dangerous to Handle.

The surgeon fish owes its name to two sharp, lancet-like spines which are short, but very sharp. Sometimes they are carried folded closely against the body, lying each partly imbebed in a little trough of its own in the side of the tail; sometimes the points of the spines are thrown forward, and when extended they are like barbs, one on each side of the fish. They make the fish dangerous to handle, for they may easily inflict serious wounds.

In shape, says the New York Sun, the surgeon fish is thin and deep; it is rather slow in its movements, and of dignified manute. Its mouth is small. shall, shorp teeth set near the lipri it alables its food off the rocks. It has a high forehold, with the eyes set our the top of the head.

The dorsal fin extends the length of the body from head to tail; the anal the extracts for half the fish's length. In color the surgeon fish may vary, is many other fishes do, more or less in accordance with its condition and erroundings, and its appearance may also depend much upon the light in which it is seen. It usually appears to w of some shade of green or blue. smetimes it appears to have a green body with blue trimmings, the trimmings being the fins. The body may be of a dark blue, with the dorsal and anal flux of a bright blue, and the ventral and pectoral fins tipped with blue. Sometimes the whole fish is of a deep purplish or violet blue, and so sometimes its coloring is very beauti-

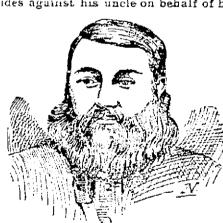

The picture here shown was drawn from a surgeon fish which came from Bermuda; this fish was little more than a foot in length, which is about an average size. The surgeon fish is rather common in West Indian waters. but not very common in the waters of Bermuda.

This specimen, which was the only one obtainable at the time of the first of the recent collections in Bermuda for the New York aquarium, was wounded and otherwise in poor condition when it left the island, and it survived here but about three weeks. Other surgeon fish are expected, however, at the aquarium.

ABDURRAHMAN KHAN.

He Is Making Trouble for the British Abdurrahman Khan, the ameer of Afghanistan, who, it is said, is conniving at the overthrow of British supremacy in India, is one of the most power ful monarchs in all Asia. He was put upon the throne of Afghanistan practieally by the British government of India. Abdurrahman is 67 years old and is a nephew of the late Ameer Shere Ali. In the civil war of 1864 he took sides against his uncle on behalf of his father, Afzal Khan, and distinguished himself by winning several important battles. He was made governor of Balkh, and his moderation and kindness won for him a high degree of popularity. He married the daughter of the chief of Badakghen and thus served to increase the popularity which he had made for himself by his benefieent rule. In 1868 his cousin, Yakab Khan, the son of Shere Ali, fought Abdurrahman and defeated him at Bajgah. and also at Tinah Kahn. He then fled from the country and took up his residence in Russian territory. Gen. Kaufmann permitted him to live at Samarcand, and the Russian government allowed him an income of 25,000 rubles a year. In 1879 he left Turkestan and marched with some forces to the Cabulborder. One year later he was chosen by the principal men of Cabul as ameer of the country.

Row to Use Court Plaster. Court plaster should be used with care. If the injury be very slight, the method of application is unimportant, but if at all deep, never use the plaster to cover the cut. Simply use long narrow strips and apply them across the cut to bring its edges together. Then the secretions of the wound can escape. Never apply court plaster to a bruised wound.

DISAPPOINTED ANGLERS.

Day's Pishing Tripis Poor in the Wallkill.

Thinking to enjoy a day's good fishing, a small party of Middletowners rose "betimes." yesterday morning, and journeved by wagon to the upper Wallkill, close to the Jersey line. One of the party had fished these waters in years gone by, and always with excellent good fortune. It was his glowing account of bass and perch and monster sunfish and bullheads there to be had for the taking which led to the expedition.

The p'wid waters of the "Kill" were glistening in the first rays of the morning sun when the party dropped in their lines, "sure of Lig catches" and pleasurable surprise for the tolks at home. But early as they were, somebody had been there before them, and for hours they cast their lines in vain. The "somebody," as an old resident of the locality informed the party, is that water hog, the carp. He it is that has depopulated the stream or the millions of game and edible fish with which it abounded before his beastly presence was known. The once transparent water is now as muddy as a swine ing for spawu. Mas and glack the day he was brought from over the sea, say all who love the genth art of augling.

The Baffling of the Recent Attempt at

Train Wrecking at Northfield, This paper recently published an item based on information contained in a Walton paper, to the effect that investigation by O. and W. officials had satisfied them that the baffling of an attempt at train wrecking at Northfield existed only in the imagination of the operator. This item seems to have done injustice to the young man incharge of the Northfield station. We are informed that the O, and W, officials have made no such statements as have been imputed to them, and since the young man still holds his place with the company it is reasonaquestioned by his superiors. The Walton papers, after investigating the matter, are satisfied of the truth of the agent's story. The Walton Times

Agent Terwilliger, of North Walton, was around last week looking after his reputation. Some publishers jumped at the conclusion that because the train wreckers were not caught red-handed on the spot there were none to catch; hence Terwilliger himself piled the ties on the track at Northfield a few weeks since, and without further investigation so stated. A few weeks later it was also stated that Mr. Terwilliger had confessed to the railroad company and been discharged. The fact is Mr. Terwilliger still holds hi job, and enjoys the confidence of the company. He has not been suspended or censured. Explanations are in or-

The Walton Chronicle says:

We understand that Agent Terwilliger, of Northfield, has taken the preliminary steps to make certain newspapers retract damaging inferences, published against him at the time of the attempted wreck at Northfield.
